Sponsored This listing is paid for by the brand. Why am I seeing this?

Zentra

Zentra PetPro S

Self-emptying robot vacuum with 60-day dustbin base

4.4 out of 5 (862 ratings)

US$299.00 ~~US$349.00~~

Sale ends Sunday. In stock.

- Self-emptying base holds up to 60 days of dirt
- Rubber main brush resists hair tangles
- Up to 120 minutes per charge
- App with maps and schedules

About this item

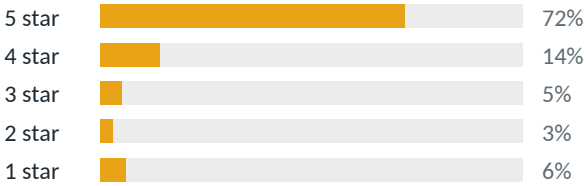

The Zentra PetPro S empties itself into a sealed bag in its base after every run, so you don't have to empty the bin. Its rubber main brush resists hair tangles, and 2,700 Pa of suction lifts pet hair from rugs and hard floors. Replacement bags cost US$19.99 for a pack of three.

Specifications

Suction	2,700 Pa
Battery life	Up to 120 minutes
Dust bin	300 mL in the robot, bag in the base
Main brush	Rubber roller
Self-emptying base	Yes, included
Noise	About 64 dB (base emptying: about 80 dB)
Height	3.9 in (9.9 cm)
Navigation	Laser (LiDAR) mapping
App	Yes, iOS and Android
Warranty	1 year

Customer reviews

4.4 out of 5 | 862 ratings

Reviews (most helpful first)

★★★★★ Never empty the bin again

Carla D. | Reviewed December 20, 2026 | Verified purchase | Owned 2 months

The base is a game changer. I just change the bag every couple of months.

★★★★☆ Good with our dog

Ethan W. | Reviewed January 3, 2027 | Verified purchase | Owned 6 weeks

Rubber brush doesn't tangle with our lab's hair. Mapping is good.

★★☆☆☆ The base is LOUD

Nina P. | Reviewed December 29, 2026 | Verified purchase | Owned 1 month

Every time it empties, it sounds like a jet engine for 10 seconds. It woke the baby twice. Cleaning is fine.

★★★☆☆ Bags add up

Ray J. | Reviewed January 7, 2027 | Verified purchase | Owned 3 months

Works well, but the bags are only sold by Zentra and they're not cheap. Factor that into the price.

★☆☆☆☆ Base stopped working

Helen G. | Reviewed December 12, 2026 | Verified purchase | Owned 2 months

The base stopped emptying after six weeks. The robot still cleans, so now I have a very expensive charging dock.

★★★★★ Worth the sale price

Tom F. | Reviewed January 5, 2027 | Verified purchase | Owned 2 weeks

Got it on sale. Big upgrade from my old one.